

How can Quantum Physics increase your Health and Well-Being?

This is the question which we posed to Dipl.Ing (FH) Joachim M. Wagner, the engineer who made this discovery and to Karma Singh, for many decades a professional healer and, since 2003 the main proponent of the use of the technology in health and related issues.

Joachim Wagner: When we set out to develop this technology, health issues never even entered our heads. Our intention was to make cars run better by removing the chaos from their energy systems on the Quantum level which causes so much wastage, inefficiencies, wear and tear, pollution and road accidents. It took us six years to make the first fully functional prototypes (which still perform with 100% efficiency after nearly 23 years, incidentally) and some more years before it finally caught on in a big way - primarily in the Far East. It was this Far Eastern connection which lead to the technology first being applied for health issues: A Traditional Chinese Doctor had just had his car optimised and reasoned that, as all material is formed from the same elementary particles, the Harmony Technology should be just as effective on the human body as it is on a car. His experiments and many others by several Chi-Gong Masters and Healers proved his supposition.

The technology itself is completely passive – it can neither add anything nor remove anything. All that it does is to return the natural order to that which is already there.

In a world in which we have become accustomed to huge machines and highly complex devices even to take the simplest of measurements let alone solve a problem, this may seem to be very little. When, however, you apply a correction to a system at its most basic level – the point at which the atoms are formed – then everything from that point on will naturally move into optimal function. This is the function of the Harmony Technology.

Karma Singh: Back in 2001, one of my patients began to badger me about this new technology. Having much experience with so called “miracle devices” which, mostly, don’t function at all, I was able to successfully restrain my enthusiasm for several months. In the end, however, I agreed to purchase one of these devices with the intention of proving to her that such things don’t work. To my amazement, 20 years of constant discomfort after an operation disappeared in 36 hours never to return! A further 18 months experimentation with myself and volunteer patients showed the amazing versatility of the devices which anyone can apply for themselves within minutes.

Basically, what happens is the “cleaning” of the electrons from adverse connections with damaging energies. Cleaned electrons are much more coherent, i.e. much more potent than perturbed ones. This causes any system, be this mechanical or biological to, of itself, throw off any harmful or restrictive influences and to move naturally into optimal function.

Now, the human body is a highly sophisticated machine fully capable of self-repair and regeneration unless something prevents it. It is rarely necessary to intervene in an attempt to force repair. In the vast majority of health issues all that is needful is to remove the disturbance which is preventing a healthy balance. In at least 40% of cases this necessitates changes to the diet. There are, however, a great many other health issues, including most of the so called “chronic” and “incurables” which can be released by correcting the electron balance with the Harmony Technology. What does this mean in concrete effects? There are, for example, many so called illnesses which are nothing other than symptoms of blood which is not able to adequately transport either nutrients to the cells nor wastes from the cells to the discharge organs (urine, stool, sweat, for example). This forces your body to store toxic wastes which we then label “Arthritis”, “Osteoporosis”, “Arteriosclerosis”, etc., etc., etc.; it is a very long list. The experience has shown that returning the water which forms 93% of your blood to the natural order simply by wearing a Harmony device not only enables your blood to take up and to discharge these acidic wastes but, because nutrients are then properly delivered to your cells, the natural regeneration of damaged parts follows. Typically, a pain free state is attained within weeks. This has proved to be so uniformly effective that the Harmony devices all bear a six month money back satisfaction guarantee as well the ten year function guarantee. (Ten years is the legal maximum allowable in many countries and has been adopted as international standard by Harmony United).

Human immunity to infection is also greatly enhanced by the reduction of stress related energy imbalances which tend to compromise immunity.

As I, myself, experienced, the trauma stored in old wounds, especially surgical wounds, which cause a long list of maladies such as stiffness, chronic low-level pain, weather sensibility, etc. will usually disappear in a very short time.

All in all, from my more than four decades studying health issues and 27 years professional practice I would say that the Harmony Technology is, probably, the most significant technological development ever. One of its many advantages is that anyone can use the devices safely with nothing other than simple, one page, usage guidance.
